BASKETBALL, THE COUNTRY BOY'S SPORT

Two weeks ago the county schools finished their county basketball tournament at Brooklet. More than 1500 fans saw 26 teams play 36 games in three days. More than 150 boys and girls participated in this tournament.
Last week end saw the preliminaries of the First Congressional District tournament. This weekend will see the finals of this tournament.

The Teachers College has just completed a twelve game schedule, playing all over the state. The High School Blue Devils has just finished its regular schedule and each school in the county has played its complete schedule.

It is obvious that the rural communities are spending more on this one sport than they do on some of the "vital" educational courses. And what a grand thing for the country and town boy that this is!

Basketball is one of the youngest sports of all—and the most popular. More persons either play or watch it than any other form of athletic activity on the globe. Last year there were 80,000,000 paid admissions at basketball games in the United States, as compared with a total attendance of 50,000,000 at baseball games, and 40,000,000 football admissions.

There are many regions where the communities go literally basketball mad during the three winter months. Young folks, old folks, pack gymnasiums two or three nights a week, to forget their cares in watching an hour or so of this fast, clean sport.

Although it has flourished in the cities, too, basketball has always been peculiarly the country boy's sport. Not many players were needed, nor much in the way of equipment. Old lodge halls, armories, vacant store buildings and tobacco warehouses were converted into courts. It is a game that is not limited to a few brawny heroes. In nearly every school in the county nearly every boy plays basketball. He begins with the first day of school.

We thank the inventor for giving us such a game. Vital educational courses, indeed! But! who wants to be vital all the time? Some of us are just mean enough to stick out our tongue at the learned educator and rejoice, openly and wickedly, that basketball is moving into more comfortable quarters.

And may Statesboro learn a lesson from Brooklet regarding its basketball quarters.

SYLPHILIS, LET'S STAMP IT OUT!

When we go to a hospital we expect everything to be scrupulously clean. We want the satisfaction—we demand the satisfaction of knowing that our food which we eat while there, is absolutely clean, that it is prepared by cooks who are regularly examined to see that they are clean. We know that the linen on our bed is clean and that the rooms of the hospital are kept clean by clean help. We know these things are so because the hospital must have it so.

But when we go home we are prone to become lax in our demands regarding these things. We are not saying that we keep unclean homes . . . but—DO WE KNOW POSITIVELY, THAT OUR COOK, OUR WASH WOMAN, OUR HOUSE GIRL, IS ABSOLUTELY CLEAN?

Listen . . . Approximately 12 per cent of the colored people in Bulloch county are syphilitic. In a survey being made by the County Health Doctor, in which 51 tests have been made, seven were found to be strongly positive for syphilis. Each one of these seven becomes, at large, a fountain literally packed with dynamite. And it is quite possible that one of these seven works for us.

Syphilis has always been something one did not talk about. It is not "nice" conversation. It has been something which the newspapers had, until recent years, admitted but overlooked.

What is syphilis? Putting it in the simplest form, it is an organism in the shape of a corkscrew known as "spirochaeta pallidum." Its nature was not known until about 1893. It is believed to have been brought to the Western hemisphere by the sailors on Columbus' boat.

Syphilis may make its appearance in the form of a sore caused by the entry of the "spirochaete" into the blood streams through any minute break into the skin. This sore may heal and for a long period of time the organism may lie in a latent condition in the body, then in the disease's second stage take the form of a rash of various sorts breaking out over the body, followed by another latent period during which the infection is apparently quiescent for a varying number of years. Then follows the "tertiary period" in which the disease assumes its most malignant form. In this stage it attacks the bodily organs and is almost, if not completely incurable.

It is agreed that syphilis can be stamped out. If, after tests reveal syphilis, a doctor sees it may be cured.

We now have the Ellis Health Law Unit in Bulloch county and with the cooperation of the city, the county and the people in the county and city this deplorable disease can be, if not stamped out, controlled.

Let the council pass an ordinance requiring all domestic servants, all handlers of food in public eating places be examined and given a clean bill of health. If no clean bill of health can be given then require that one to see his family physician and receive treatment that will, if not to far developed, cure that one.

Then we can have the same satisfaction in our home that we have in our hospital.

DOOMED FOR DISCARD

We are wondering if there would not be any mention of the removal of the state capital to Macon at this session, when lo and behold it appears, but like the Bergin bill, it seems doomed for perpetual discard.

Have you, at night, had to stop for a red light and had to wait 30 to 45 seconds to make a right turn and not a car, coming or going, in sight? Even if you are not in a hurry.

Congratulations to Hubert Alford and James Rushing, Bulloch county 4-H club members, on receiving awards for excellent work in their 4-H club projects. When working for ones self one does a better job of that work and recognition follows naturally.

The Fine Arts Committee and its chairman, Mrs. J. O. Johnston and its secretary, Miss Eunice Lester are to be congratulated in bringing to Statesboro and Bulloch county the paintings by members of the Savannah Art Club. The exhibit included twenty-five pictures which were on exhibition at the Woman's club and at the Bulloch County Library.

With the decision of Bulloch county officials and the citizens interested in the collection of taxes to hire a tax collector our attention is called to the financial situation in Brooklet.

The mayor of Brooklet has made it a personal matter, that of collection of taxes, and has succeeded in putting Brooklet in fine shape. Brooklet is debt free. They have paid off all their bonds and now have a good balance in their treasury. So—it can be done.

The Rotarians have organized a Safety Campaign and will select a Safety Council at its next meeting. It works in such a way to make each member his own officer, his own judge, his own jury, and his own executive. When a member breaks safety rules he reports the matter himself and pays the fine set. The funds received from such fines are to be used in promoting Safety in the community. If every automobile driver and every pedestrian would conduct his own personal safety campaign it would not be long before automobile driving would approach the pleasure it might be.

CLIPONREKA CULLINGS

By Your Roaming Reporter

Well for fear that the Hon. Jack Murphy takes us to task for writing Hot Springs oddities long after we've taken up eating at home with the Missus, as he did last summer when we kept writing from Montreuil long after we had hauled him over the coals about upping our taxes, your Arkansas traveller I just can't help spring any more tall tales from the far country except to say that we left there. Maybe a few trite observations along the way home might be of interest, especially to the gang of hoodlums who were out there last spring any more tell tale from the phony jewelry they missed the grand sights on the road back. (And by the way, there is still the matter of the red-headed gal who sent kisses to Able and John Everett by your reporter. I know she wasn't silly enough to think she was going to live them in person, but anyway I was game and took plenty for both. But don't try to get them boys—nuthin' doing!!)

But since so many of you have never travelled the route and those nit-wits who did were so busy repenting and making up lies to tell their trusting wives, I just can't help but outline some of the interesting sights along the road. The thermometer said it was 20 that morning and as we had our bath at 100 degrees and crawled from that steaming tub into Col. H. D. faithful old "shaded" and out onto the road, we never questioned it being that cold. Honestly it seemed like the coldest day in history and as the day grew along it got colder—if that was possible. Our trip home was just about the same as Byrd's trip to the South Pole, except I know Byrd didn't run into it that cold. It was the first time in my life I remember seeing ice from daylight to dark. All day from time to time little skiffs of snow fell, but it was so gold-darned cold the snowing machine froze and even after the thermometer got down to 10 and if you don't think that's cold, just try a teaspoonful some time . . . it didn't snow any more. I think it was about that time that chunks of ice as large as Will Green sells for a nickel began covering the already snow covered earth. Honestly, I never saw so much ice before in my life, except in an ice house.

About the first time we thawed out enough to laugh was just outside of Little Rock when a Burma-shave couplet on a sign board announced to a waiting world that: "Burma girls in Mandalay, down bearded livers in the bay." Just for that I made up a couplet that said when I feel especially rich, like Lennie Rushing for instance, I'm going to buy a tube of this noted shave cream. I've been laughing at these roadside couplets long enough that I ought to buy at least one tube kinder as the price of admission. And Little Rock is a town, if anyone else knows, and if they don't it still is a fine town and they have a bridge there—(across the Ouchita river, I think) about as long as from Statesboro to Brooklet. (That is the estimate of the Col. . . you know my diet doesn't permit drinking, even in cold weather). Later on the really and honest-to-goodness we crossed the White River and the fill or causeway on the eastern side of the bridge was apparently about twenty feet high and measured 8-3-4 in length. From Little Rock its just miles and miles and miles to Memphis. The miles are as straight as a plumbline and twice as flat as a dancefloor, while on the right is cotton and too the rear is cotton. It just doesn't seem possible that so many miles could be covered with so much cotton, all of it made without fertilizer and averaging about 1-1-2 bales to the acre. Occasionally one sees a pretty home, but mostly it is a succession of huts. In and around Lonoke one sees quite a lot of rice but mostly it is just cotton.

Somewhere amid these miles we run smack dab into Palestine (Pop. 305) and we didn't see a Hebrew, hear wall from the famous Walling Wall, nor visit the Temple (if they had one, which we doubt). Not far from Jerusalem (or was it, Palestine), the fifty mile succession of signs advertising Carl's Famous Barbecue got the better of our combined resistance and we plumped down at Carl's roadside inn, a lovely brick restaurant right by the side of the highway, looking very much like Bill Foss's place and what the Col. and I did for six or seven gallons of coffee that was sure enough hot was a plenty. Having been raised on Uncle Allen's barbecue, the least we say of what they call GOOD barbecue in Arkansas the better; but they DID have some SHORE enough good hot coffee that cold day in January. "Twenty miles," the swell blonde who waited on us and who had her name embroidered in the collar of her dress, told us to Memphis and if any of you guys and gals don't think the Col's "shaded" will travel just try filling him up on a gallon of hot coffee and two pounds of barbecue and watch him make the road sizzle. When he stuck his foot down on the accelerator it stayed down like when Bro. Beaver lays his tiny toes down on one.

Memphis looks like, and is, a real city. My first recollection was a magnificent looking establishment right on the river bank, about the size of a piano box, with a sign about the size of a big read, "ARK FISH CO., L. D. Noah, Prop. Cat Fish a Specialty." My second was about a half a dozen of the world's largest steel bridges—lung about half way to the sky—across one of the world's biggest rivers. They appear to have steel enough in their construction to run the world's steel mills for a generation. We merely gave Memphis the high sign, passing enough used cars in five adjoining lots to furnish one for every man, woman and child in sixteen states. Honestly it doesn't seem credible that they will ever sell all of those used cars, but if they do that magnificent four lane highway will furnish them with the finest place to try out their speed and gas mileage in the country. Just where this super-highway begins and ends the road is a group of the most magnificent church and Sunday School buildings we had ever seen, and you can imagine the thrill this roamer got when the tablet on the building told us it was the Idlewild Presbyterian church. Your reporter decided then and there if we ever got a call to that church we were going to accept.

Riding like the wind on that 325 mile trip toward Chattanooga, we ran across a stretch of maybe fifty miles, extending east from Memphis, where erosion had done its "durnedest." Honestly the world appeared washed away, and it is going to take several generations and many an hour of honest toil to restore what a careless people let the falling rains wash away. About sixty miles of the Col's hot foot found us in Bolivar, (Tenn.) a town that looked as if it was old when Noah built the ark . . . then Savannah (10,000 Pop.) and Waynesboro, ten innumerable little "blow-pot" towns sand just at nightfall, we came to Pulaski. Altho everything in Pulaski appeared to be frozen solid, some ten thousand citizens still lived there. Pulaski is a great mule center, and according to the village oracle, who ate supper at our table, Josh Zetter-ower, Gaines Boyd et cetera, must be right. Mr. King Solomon in person informed us that "good mules walk mighty skase" and when we got down to figures he said a good pair of three year olds could be bought right out at the farm for "from four to five hundred" dollars. For varied reasons, some of which were financial, we spent that night in a tourist camp, where we got as nice a steam heated cabin, with bath, twin beds, fresh laundered linen, Beauty Rest mattress and etc. for the magnificent sum of $1 each, and a garage thrown in free for nothing. These roadside accommodations are doing things to modern hotels, and I don't mean maybe!

About four o'clock G. M. Friday found two sets of itching feet rarin' to rest again on Bulloch soil and about four hours later we were wading the snow on Montague, Tenn., where by a grand fire we loaded the human engine with more hot coffee and a few yards of fresh sausage just for good measure. It was there we met the real village oracle who, upon learning we were from Georgia, took up to the window and pointed out the exact hotel in which our Senator "Dick" Russell first saw the light of day. "Every summer," he explained, "the Russells spent at the assembly at Montague," and during one of their annual visits Dick was added to an already growing household. But our stay in Montague was mighty brief and with a last long fleeting glance at the snow, which had been on the ground so long it was beginning to look flea-bitten, or as the Col. said: "Kinder dusty," we jumped to the beautiful valley of the Tennessee river as it wandered into and through Chattanooga. You know out at our house we are "jes po folks," but if Uncle Henry ever leaves us that million, we're going to borrow the trailer from Bro. Beaver and fill it up with all the little reporters, AND THE BIG ONE, and make a less vigorous trip along that Tennessee river. It's just about the most beautiful trip we have ever seen. In

To The Ladies

By Adelaide Barnett

(Editor's Note: Beginning this week this column will be a weekly feature. It is written by a Statesboro woman and will be about and for Statesboro ladies. It will contain something of interest to every woman, every week. Begin it now and read it every week.)

Ladies, I want to make this corner our special meeting place. I'm going to choose from the letters you write to me, the next few weeks, one to be quoted here. Who's going to be the first?

Let's get acquainted through this recipe, in which we are all interested. If you have a better one won't you pass it on?

HOW TO PRESERVE A HUSBAND

First, get one, not too young, but tender. Make your selection carefully and let it be final. (Otherwise they will not keep.) Like wine, improve with age. Do not pickle or put in hot water, (this tends to make them sour). Prepare as follows: Wash them in milk, according to variety. The sour, bitter kind are improved with a pinch of salt of common sense. Spice over a good fire of steady devotion. The poorest varieties may be improved by this process and kept for years in any climate.

OVERWEIGHT?

If you are a least bit overweight: Here are some suggestions about your spring and summer wardrobe. First, materials. We have a large and varied selection to choose from. If your choice is a print you can't do better than a small check background with a very small design, or the same background with a fairly large (never really big) figure, widely spaced. Vertical stripes give a trim appearance as do solid colors in the deeper shades. Second, style: Keep your neckline plain, put the fullness in the sleeves. A slightly flared skirt with a three gored back, gives a good line, also the center seam in your skirt front.

The suggested materials can be had in ready made, or in piece goods in wash silks, linens, cotton prints, and any number of newer materials. Have you noticed the printed linens and piques that are being shown in our local stores. They are inexpensive too.

If you go in for making your own clothes you will be pleased with the new, low priced patterns. Only 1c and they really fit.

Try one of the new tooth powders for your children, as young as three years, they love it. It's like to tell you the names and where you can buy them, if you will write and ask. Chinchilla is the last word on fabrics for sport coats . . . three-quarter length, box coats with no-button fronts . . . as low as $5.95, and in our local stores too.

We are beginning to see tempting looking boxes of luscious, red strawberries in our grocery store windows . . . reminds us that our own crop will be coming on soon. Here is our favorite recipe for using strawberries: STRAWBERRY PIE

1 cup of milk
2 tbs. of flour
2 eggs
1-2 cup strawberries
1 pie shell (baked).
Scald the milk . . . mix sugar, flour and beaten egg yolks, add this to scalded milk and cook over boiling water until thick. Set aside to cool. Put fresh berries in cold baked shell. Over this pour the cooled mixture. Make a meringue of the egg whites, adding 2 tbs. of sugar. Cover pie and brown in quick oven so as not to let the berries heat. Whipped cream may be used in place of meringue.

Don't you have a "favorite" too? Be friendly and let us try it also. I promise to print as many as I can.

DID YOU KNOW—

That you can make a beauty mask or pack at home for only a few cents? Let me tell you how.

That a bride should never be congratulated? One wishes her the greatest happiness and congratulates the bridegroom.

That we welcome your letters of criticism? That anything we suggest we will gladly tell you where and how to get it?

That we will be seeing you next week?

NEVILS NEWS

BY MISS MAUDE WHITE

D. B. TURNER SPEAKS AT NEVILS P. T. A. MEETING

A regular meeting of the Nevils P. T. A. was held Thursday afternoon, February 17, in the High School auditorium. One of the largest crowds in the history of this organization was present. Mr. D. B. Turner, editor of the Bulloch Times was the principal speaker of the afternoon. One of his topics was making friends, and his receipt for making friends was based upon three facts, first, tell no one anything they don't want to know, second, tell no one anything they already know, third, talk about no one until they are gone. Mr. Turner in a very pleasant manner kept his audience in smiles, interspersed with ringing laughter, throughout his address.

Miss Jane Franceth gave to this interested audience some very appreciative facts about the splendid work being carried on throughout Bulloch county, using Nevils as an illustration. She divided her address into the following fields, leading, Health, Music and English. She showed her delight in the favorable accomplishments from each field of work.

Preceding the addresses mentioned Mrs. C. J. Martin led the devotional and Miss Edna McLaughlin, one of the teachers gave some interesting facts on the life of Mrs. Theodore Birney, and Mrs. Ruel Clifton, gave a splendid reading on F. T. A. work. The Altar ceremony of candle lighting in honor of Founders Day dedicated to Mrs. Theodore Birney, the first president of a F. T. A. was very beautifully and systematically carried out. The characters representing, Wisdom, Fame, Love, Light and Work were beautifully gowned in long white transparent robes and were played by Misses Elizabeth Proctor, Hazel Davis, Lounell Futch, Edith Iler, and Hazel Anderson. After the program there was no time left for the business part of our meeting so the business part of our meeting was very joyous this occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Latimer of Savannah, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Futch and family, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Rushing and sons, James and Jerry, Mr. Leffler Futch and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Futch.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION FOR MRS. F. H. FUTCH

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was the birthday dinner, last Sunday, February 13, given in honor of Mrs. F. H. Futch. A real feast was enjoyed and those enjoying this occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Latimer of Savannah, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Futch and family, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Rushing and sons, James and Jerry, Mr. Leffler Futch and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Futch.

TENTH AND ELEVENTH GRADE GIVES WEINER ROAST

On last Thursday night the tenth and eleventh grades entertained with a Weiner Roast at Booth's Pond near Register.

About twenty-five were present to enjoy the feast. Each class member had permission to invite one guest. A very good time was reported by all who attended the party. Mr. E. D. Bell was chief cook and chaperon, and evidently most prominent "eater" as no one was employed as "taster" for the occasion.

CHAPEL PROGRAM GIVEN AT NEVILS SCHOOL

On last Wednesday morning Miss Van Landingham and her sixth grade presented the most inspirational and educational program in chapel. The program was an exhibition of the important things that really happen in February, and the historical dates that should be observed, including the birthdates of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington and the children's holiday that means so much to the "Valentines Day."

Jack Proctor acted as the master of ceremonies and Uldine Martin had charge of the devotional exercises. She was assisted by Britt, leading in prayer. The song, America, was the song for the general assembly. A few of the school patrons were present.

GRADE MOTHERS ENTERTAIN ON VALENTINE'S DAY

The grade mothers of our school entertained several classes last Monday in honor of St. Valentine's Day. Valentine parties were enjoyed in the lower grades. Most of the rooms of the school enjoyed a "Valentine Box." Little favors, candy, cookies and some beverages were served to the youngsters. A little program in keeping with the holiday was presented in some of the classes. The story of St. Valentine was told to familiarize the children with the purpose of the celebration. Many valentine tokens was exchanged.

NEW BOOKS LEFT THE SCHOOL

The school service man for the Bulloch County Library, Mr. Holliday, visited our school Thursday, and left us several new books. We appreciate this service very much and we en-

Questions And Answers On Marketing Quotas

A great many cotton farmers are at a loss as to how to proceed with their planning. With this in mind we print here questions and answers issued by the Agriculture Department, for cotton farmers on the referendum to be held March 12, to determine whether they favor marketing quotas this year, and other provisions of the new farm act.

Q. Who will be eligible to vote?
A. All farmers who produced cotton in 1937.

Q. Who will be in charge of the voting?
A. The county soil conservation committee. It will select a voting place in each community and select local farmers to hold the referendum.

Q. Will the ballot be secret?
A. Yes.

Q. If two-thirds of the farmers taking part in the referendum vote for quotas, will they apply to states, counties and communities where they are not approved?

A. Yes, the cotton problem is a national problem and not confined to any state or county. Consequently, the quotas will apply wherever cotton is produced.

What Steps Will Follow
Q. If marketing quotas are approved, what steps will be taken to put them into effect on individual farmers?

A. The national cotton allotment proclaimed by the secretary of agriculture in terms of bales will be allocated to the states, in terms of the acre, which, with average yields would produce the national allotment and the acreage allocated to the states will be apportioned to counties or administrative areas in the states and ultimately to farms.

Q. What is the total acreage which will be allotted to states, counties and farms in 1938?

A. Approximately 26,300,000.

Q. On the basis of average yields, how much cotton is expected to be produced on this number of acres?

A. Between 10,500,000 and 11,500,000 bales.

Quotas Explained
Q. How do cotton marketing quotas under the adjustment act of 1938 differ from the quotas under the old Bankhead act?

A. Under the Bankhead act each cotton producer received a poundage allotment and paid a tax on all cotton gained in excess of that allotment. Under the adjustment act of 1938, each cotton farmer will receive an acreage allotment, and all cotton produced on the acreage allotment may be sold without any penalty?

Q. Will marketing quotas apply to all cotton?

A. Yes, except that they will not apply to cotton with a staple length of 1-1/2 inches or longer, such as Sea Island cotton.

Q. How will the national allotment be divided?

A. The national allotment will be divided among the cotton growing states on the basis of the production in each state during the preceding five years, taking into account the acres diverted from cotton.

Q. How will the state allotments be divided?

A. Each state's allotment in terms of bales is translated into acres and divided among counties on the basis of the acreage planted to cotton in each county during the years 1933-37 inclusive, taking into consideration the acres diverted from cotton, but whatever additional allotment is necessary will be made to assure that no county shall receive less than 60 per cent of the sum of the acreage planted in 1937 and the acreage diverted from cotton under the 1937 program.

Division of Allotments
Q. How will the county allotment be divided among farms?

A. It will be divided among farms on which cotton has been planted in any of the past three years as follows: All farms which have not planted and diverted as much as 5 acres of cotton in any of the three years, will receive as their allotment the largest number of acres planted and diverted in any of the three years (1933-37). All farms on which five acres or more of cotton were planted and diverted in any of the three years will receive as their allotment five acres and an additional amount which will bring the total allotment up to a percentage of the farm crop land (excluding acreage devoted to wheat, tobacco and rice) which was the case for all farms in the county, or administrative area. Provisions are made for a small county reserve that may be allotted to farms receiving 5 to 15 acres under the above provision.

Q. Will farms producing cotton in 1938, but which did not produce cotton during any of the past three years receive allotments?

A. Yes, a small reserve acreage will be available in each state to be divided among these farms.

Q. Is there a limit to the acreage that may be allotted to a farm?

A. Yes, a farm on which cotton was planted in either 1935, 1936, or 1937 will not be allotted an acreage greater than the cotton acreage planted and diverted in any of these years.

Who'll Make Allotments?
Q. Who is charged with the responsibility of making individual farm allotments?

A. The county and community committees.

Q. What is the marketing quota of the individual farmer?

A. It is the cotton produced on his allotted acres, or the normal production on his allotted acres, whichever is the greater.

Q. What is the penalty for marketing more cotton than his farm in excess of the farm's quota?

A. Two cents a pound on the excess production sold, to be collected by the buyer.

Q. May all farms be expected to pay the penalty on excess cotton?

A. No, the penalty does not apply to cotton produced on any farm which has received a cotton acreage allotment and on which the production is 1,000 pounds of lint cotton or less.

Provisions for Review
Q. What review is there for a review of a producer's marketing quota which seems unfair to him?

A. Provision is made for appeals to a review committee of farmers other than members of the local committee which made the allotment.

Q. May marketing quotas be altered after they become effective?

A. The secretary of agriculture may under certain conditions, terminate quotas or he may increase by a uniform percentage the amount of cotton producers may market, in order to make a normal supply of cotton available. The act does not give the secretary the power to decrease the quotas.

LEADERSHIP IN GEORGIA is leadership indeed!

These twenty towns led Georgia, in 1937, in the use of residential electric service. Opposite the name of each town is the number of kilowatt hours used during the year, on the average, per home.

EVERY man and woman in Georgia can feel a genuine pride in the record of these twenty well-known Georgia towns that led the state in 1937 in use of residential electric service.

The average home in Woodbine, a southeast Georgia town with a population of about 400, used almost four times the amount of electric service used by the average home throughout America in 1937.

All the homes in the United States used last year an average of 803 kilowatt hours per home, while homes on the lines of the Georgia Power Company used an average of 1313.4 kilowatt hours per home—or 63.6 per cent more than the national average! The familiar towns you see listed here made even more startling records.

Use of low-cost electric service is increasing month by month in our Georgia homes; in cities, small towns and on the farms. No state east of the Rocky Mountains surpasses Georgia in putting electric service to work at doing our household jobs, making our homes more attractive, creating refreshing leisure for Georgia women, giving them more time—more youth in which to enjoy the wholesome things of life!

Miss Frances Mathews and Mr. Talmadge Ramsey Wed in Home Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Frances Mathews and Mr. Talmadge Ramsey was solemnized Wednesday, February 16 at high noon at the home of the bride's parents on North Main street in the presence of family connections and the social contingent who had entertained with pre-nuptial parties. Rev. C. M. Coulton, pastor of the First Baptist church, performed the ceremony.

Beauty and perfection of detail marked the decorations in the lovely home. Stately palms with trailing smilax surrounded the entrance to the reception hall. The hotel was banked with ferns. Rising from this mound of greenery was a basket of soft pink snap dragons. An effective arrangement of pink gladioli and radiance roses on the console table accented the pink and green color motif prevailing in the reception room.

The vows were taken before an improvised altar in the living room. Palms extending across the end of the room in front of long triple windows formed a background for the wedding cake which was beautifully embellished with lilies of the valley and bride's roses. Miniature white doves and crisp tulle bows containing the favors encircled the cake gave it additional beauty. Silver compotes filled with green and white mints further adorned the table. A silver bowl of calla lilies and snap dragons with five-branched candelabra at each end graced the buffet.

Mrs. Henry Blitch, sister of the bride, presided over the bride's book. The wedding guests were served a salad and sweet course with coffee.

Golden slippers, rice filled, were given as favors to the ladies and silver wedding bells tied with white satin were given to the gentlemen.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Walter Aldred Jr., Mrs. John Kennedy of Savannah, Mrs. R. L. Cone, Mrs. Lowell Mallard, Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mrs. J. D. Fletcher, Mrs. Bob Turner, Mrs. J. C. Mr. and Mrs. Iler have only one child—a son, Carl Iler, and five grand children.

At the noon hour a bountiful dinner was spread on tables placed on the lawn. In addition to all the cakes and pies for which Southern housewives are famous, barbecued meats were served.

Many lovely and useful gifts were tendered the couple as tokens of the high regard in which they are held.

ONE VARIETY COTTON

PAYS DIVIDENDS TO FARMERS IN GEORGIA

Carroll county farmers saved an average of $5 per acre last year on all cotton planted in one-variety communities. The total amount saved in the county from planting one-variety cotton was $115,000.

County Agent G. F. Wiley said in Carrollton this week that 25,000 acres were planted in D & P L cotton in the county last year and that this figure is expected to be increased in 1938. Two new one-variety communities have already been organized this year.

The one-variety movement was started four years ago in one of the small communities in the county. This beginning was so successful that the next year three new communities were organized. There are now 11 communities doing this work.

When the campaign to produce better quality cotton was started in Carroll, the farmers in the county were growing 43 varieties of cotton. Wiley explained. Most of these were short staple varieties and it was practically impossible for an individual to improve his variety of cotton.

The number of varieties has since been reduced to 22, and last year a County Cotton Improvement Committee was organized to consider plant and problems for the county as a whole. This committee is made up of leading growers and ginners in the county.

The aim of this committee is to spread the one-variety community over the entire county. Wiley said that a good beginning had been made and that he thought this was the most important part of the program.

Statesboro And Pembroke Win Easily In Preliminaries

S.H.S. Win Top Honor In B Division, Pembroke Wins In C

The Statesboro High basketball quintet coasted through the preliminaries for the lower section of the First District held in Brooklet last week. The Blue Devils won three straight victories at the hands of Waynesboro, Glennville and Brooklet and all three games were won by one sided scores.

Pembroke won first place in the C division preliminaries by defeating Guyton, Ludowici and Stillson. Pembroke had very little trouble in getting by Guyton and Stillson but Ludowici gave them a tough battle.

Register carried off third place honors in the C division by defeating Ludowici 29-20. Hinesville won third place honors in the B division by easily defeating Glennville 23-13.

The results of the preliminaries which were held in Brooklet for the lower section of the First Division are as follows:

Thursday's games:

Marlow 27 ----- Springfield 25

FOUR TEAMS FROM EACH DIVISION TO ENTER FINALS IN STATESBORO

Four teams that came out in first, second, third and fourth place in the preliminaries in each division will enter the finals that are to be held in Statesboro Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

The four teams of the division that won are Pembroke, Stillson, Register, and Ludowici in the order of the places won by them. The teams of the B division that are eligible to enter the finals are Statesboro, Hinesville, Brooklet and Glennville.

These eight teams will go into the finals with eight teams of the C and B divisions of the upper section of products to maintain a proper standard of health," Fitch said. "Therefore any expansion which might result from diverting land under the new farm program would likely be in increased home consumption."

"This might even mean that some of the 70,000 Georgia farmers now without cows will be able to keep one in the future."

The dates for the Macon fat stock show have been changed from May 3 and 4 to April 25 and 26.

STATSBORO PLACES TWO MEN ON ALL-STAR TEAM AND BROOKLET TWO

Emerson Anderson and Frederick Beasley of Statesboro, Thomas Hill and Clark of Brooklet, Salter of Hinesville composed the first string all-star team of the lower section of the district. Statesboro placed two more men on the second string all-star team. They were Skeet Kennon and Robert Hodges, Clifton of Brooklet, Bagley of Glennville and Stafford of Hinesville, rounded out the second string with the two Statesboro boys.

Comment was aroused at the fact that John Smith, scrappy little player on the Statesboro quintet was left off the all-star list. Smith is not a high scoring man and he is not the type of ball player that might be one of the fans but he is undoubtedly one of the best ball players on the Statesboro squad and during this season he has gained quite a reputation being fouled out. But any ball player that doesn't make fouls is no ball player at all. Comments were made that John Smith is the best all-round player on the team with the exception of Emerson Anderson.

On the all-star team of the C division, Stillson and Pembroke placed two each. From Stillson was D. Smith and W. Shuman and from Pembroke was Morgan and Thomas. Stephens of Register completed the first string. The second team was composed of Smith of Stillson, Stafford of Ludowici, Downs of Pembroke and L. Moore of Register and Chapman of Ludowici.

W. SHUMAN OF STILLSON WINS INDIVIDUAL SCORING HONORS

W. Shuman of Stillson led the C division for individual scoring honors and also the entire tournament. He scored a total of 37 points in three games. He was followed by Anderson of Pembroke with 25 points in as many games.

Emerson Anderson of Statesboro carried off individual honors for the B division and was runner up for the entire tournament. Anderson was only one point behind Shuman of Stillson with a total of 36 points in three games. In the Glennville game Anderson scored 19 points. He was pushed for the lead by Frederick Beasley who scored 30 points in three games.

NEWEST-EASIEST WAY TO SHIFT GEARS

Nothing new to learn—entirely mechanical. You shift as usual. There's nothing to jam or get out of order. Standard gear positions.

DOUBLES DRIVING EASE. You shift faster and easier, with both hands always near the wheel and both eyes on the road. Even with three in the front seat, driver and passengers have plenty of elbow room.

Blue Devils Win District Cage Title

First Basketball Crown In History Of High School

BROOKLET WINS SECOND PLACE IN "B" DIVISION WHILE STILLSON WIN HONORS IN "C"

Playing first class basketball all throughout the finals of the First District Basketball tournament held here last weekend, the Statesboro Blue Devils won the first time in the history of the high school, by trouncing Brooklet, 48-35.

The Blue Devils, by far the best team in the tournament, won all three of their games by top-heavy scores. The Statesboro squad scored a total of 167 points against a total of 86 by their opponents in three games. On the opening day of the tournament, Statesboro defeated Reidsville 66-21. Friday in the semi-final game they defeated Alamo 53-30 and in the final game Saturday night for the district crown the Blue Devils snowed under the Brooklet cagers by the time of 48-35.

Brooklet was awarded second place honors in the B division. The Brooklet team had to defeat both Swainsboro and Metter before reaching the finals and they found both of these teams very stubborn foes. Swainsboro was beaten 29-19 and Metter was beaten by a single field goal, 30-22.

Metter defeated Swainsboro for third place in the B division. Simpson of Metter was an outstanding player throughout the tournament.

Stillson defeated Pulaski for 1st place in the C division by a four point margin, 30-26, while Stillson defeated Register 34-26 for third place honors of the C division.

Emerson Anderson and Frederick Beasley of Statesboro, along with Clark of Brooklet, Simpson of Metter and Jackson of Alamo, rounded out the all-district team in the B division.

Anderson was the outstanding player of the tournament and deserved the position that he received. Beasley did not play as much as Anderson, but he displayed the ability that a first class ball player might need. Another one of the best ball players of the tournament was Clark of Brooklet. Next to Emerson Anderson, Clark was the second choice for the best all-round player.

The second all-district team consisted of Hodges of Statesboro, Hill and Clifton of Brooklet, Braswell of Alamo and Nutter of Metter.

The all-district team of the C division consists of J. Youmans of Stillson, W. A. Youmans of Stillson, Proctor of Pulaski, W. Shuman of Stillson, and Stephens of Register. On the second string of all-stars in the C division is Scarborough of Stillson, Williams of Register, Cartee of Pulaski and Shuman and J. Smith of Stillson.

Out of the four all-star teams that were selected, eleven of the twenty members of the teams were from Bulloch county teams.

EMERSON ANDERSON SCORES 62 POINTS IN THREE GAMES

Emerson Anderson, who made the All-District team, of the Statesboro squad scored a total of 62 points in three games for an incomparable average of 21 points a game. In the Reidsville game Anderson scored 18 points, in the Alamo game he accounted for 22 points of the 53 made by Statesboro and in the Brooklet game he again was high man with 22 to his credit. In the Brooklet game he shot seven free throws and six of them were good.

Other individual high scorers were Proctor of Pulaski with 46 points; Jackson of Alamo 41 points; W. Youmans of Stillson, 39; Clark of Brooklet, 35; and Simpson of Metter, 38.
